Disclosure on Attorneys and Cascade PBS: Disclosure on Attorneys and Cascade PBS: This guide is intended to be educational in nature. While we attempt to provide helpful guidance for your estate and financial planning, we are not able to offer specific legal or financial advice on your personal situation. For specific advice about the effect of any planning concept on your tax or financial situation or with your estate, please consult a qualified professional advisor to create a customized estate plan that addresses your unique family, healthcare, estate and planning circumstances.

Why Make An Estate Plan

Thank you for your interest in this important information on how you can join those who have generously included Cascade PBS in their long-term plans.

PEACE OF MIND FOR YOU AND YOUR FAMILY

An estate plan and its associated documents will help guide your family if they need to make decisions about your care, and provide the authority they might need to do so. Consider your plan a gift to your family and other loved ones at the very time they need it the most.

An estate plan is especially important if you have minor children, as it will name a guardian to care for your children and in many instances establishes a trust to help ensure their financial well-being. Even without minor children, you will want to have a plan describing how you want to care for your loved ones. Your estate plan ensures the orderly and tax-efficient distribution of your property in accordance with your wishes.

FINANCIALLY WISE

A good estate plan will help streamline the distribution of your property, minimize administrative costs, and possibly reduce taxes that you might otherwise owe. Planning allows you to leave the most you can to the people you love and the causes you care about.

Without an estate plan of some type, the laws of your state determine what happens to your property. This is called intestate succession (property inheritance when there is no will). Very likely the law may NOT benefit those you would have chosen. Further, no state distribution law provides for gifts to friends or charities or makes provisions for your pets. Make sure what you have earned and accumulated in your lifetime goes where it's meaningful to you.

REMEMBERING CHARITY

With thoughtful planning, you can provide for your loved ones and leave a specific piece of property, a portion of, or even the remainder of your estate to a charity, such as Cascade PBS.

Getting Started

This guide will describe the key elements of an estate plan, the documents you should have, and some charitable giving ideas you might want to incorporate into your planning.

Then we provide an “Essential Information Checklist” for personal and financial information you need to share with your family. Also included is an “Estate Planning Inventory” that incorporates the elements you need to finalize your plans.

RELATED TO YOUR FUTURE WISHES

These planning techniques are the basic elements that will ensure your wishes are carried out. Your approach should be done in partnership with a lawyer. There is more information about working with a lawyer later in this booklet.

Regardless of the planning documents you choose, you can provide for a gift to Cascade PBS that will shape and secure the future of public television for generations to come. Your thoughtfulness can inspire a smarter world by providing educational programs, news, and opportunities to bring the community together now and in the future.

Making a legacy gift to Cascade PBS isn’t just for those with a large estate. It’s a wonderful way to continue a lifetime of support for an organization that has meant so much to you.

Elements of Estate Planning

WILL

A valid will is generally typed, dated, and signed by you in the presence of two legally competent witnesses. Be sure to check your state's laws, as states differ in regards to what constitutes a valid will. Only by working with an estate planning lawyer can you ensure your plan will be implemented. You can make charitable gifts in your will of a specific dollar amount, a specific asset, or all or a percentage of the remainder of your estate after all debts and other distributions have been made.

REVOCABLE LIVING TRUST

This trust is used just like a will, to facilitate the orderly distribution of your property. The living trust may have the added benefit of protecting your assets from creditors and will avoid the time and cost of the probate procedure. The living trust is created while you are alive, and you can serve as trustee. You retain the power to change and even revoke the trust. To be effective, you make the trust the legal owner of your property like your house, your car, and other valuable property. The living trust becomes irrevocable upon your death. As with a will, you can make gifts to your favorite charities.

Please note, even if you use a living trust, you should still have a Will. The Will controls the distribution of property not owned by the living trust, such as personal property. Property passing through the will is subject to the probate process, but probate in Washington State is streamlined and easier than most states.

BENEFICIARY DESIGNATIONS

These are the forms you fill out when you do things, like open a bank or stock brokerage account, establish an IRA or other type of retirement plan, or purchase a commercial annuity or life insurance policy. The beneficiary designation determines who will benefit from these accounts. You can name Cascade PBS in your beneficiary designations to receive all or a portion of an account upon your passing.

What to Expect

Expect to locate and organize all of your financial records, details of the ownership of real estate and other property, accounts with beneficiary designations, prior wills and trusts, if any. A comprehensive list of documents you'll need is included in this guide. Before visiting an attorney to document your intentions, consider the needs of your loved ones, causes close to your heart, and be prepared to make your intentions known to your planning professional. Below are answers to some common questions.

DO I NEED TO HAVE AN ESTATE PLAN?

Yes. Regardless of the size of your estate, you want to ensure that what you have will go to those you love and care for and that your wishes are carried out. But a good estate plan does far more than that. It cares for you as well as the things you value.

Your estate plan grants a power of attorney for financial and health matters should you become incapacitated and states your wishes regarding medical care. Your estate documents become an expression of what you have valued in your life, conveyed through a personal statement and by what you leave to whom.

By being thoughtful and organized about your affairs, you will have left a loving gift to your family and organizations you care about.

HOW OFTEN SHOULD I UPDATE MY PLAN?

It is a good idea to update your plan every seven to ten years. Some people have a periodic check-up with their attorney.

Certainly, whenever there is a significant event in your life such as the birth of a child or grandchild, sale of a business, retirement, change in marital status, or the passing of a spouse or other loved one, you should review your plan for necessary changes.

WHAT SHOULD MY PLAN INCLUDE?

A complete estate plan consists of a Will or revocable trust, financial power of attorney, health care power of attorney and a health care directive. Not everyone will want or need each of these, so you should work with your attorney to determine which documents will be most suited to meet your goals.

WHAT IF I HAVE PLAN, BUT WANT TO CHANGE ONE THING?

If your plan is current, it is easy to make a change or two, such as adding Cascade PBS as a charitable beneficiary. Your attorney can prepare an amendment to your will (called a "codicil") or to your living trust. Many times, this can be done quickly.

Preparing to Create an Estate Plan

Here are some practical steps to get you started:

1. Take an inventory of what you own. List all of your assets (real estate and investments) and their approximate value. Include pertinent information about that asset.
2. Make a list of tangible personal property such as jewelry, dishes, books, furniture — items other than real estate and investments — and who is to receive each item upon your passing. You may want to maintain this as a separate list, rather than designating this in your will or trust for maximum flexibility.
3. Think about your goals for your estate plan, for example, who you want to benefit, how you want to treat each of your children, any special needs that you want to provide for, what happens if you and your spouse both pass away close in time, and if there are charities or organizations you want to remember. Your attorney is likely to ask you about goals you didn't consider, but at least you'll have a head start on those that are most top-of-mind.
4. Consider whom you would like to name as your agents, e.g., the executor of your will or the trustee of your trust, the person to hold your power(s) of attorney and gather pertinent information about them.
5. See an attorney, preferably one who specializes in estate planning. If you don't have one or know of one to call, check with family, friends, co-workers, or your local bar association for recommendations. Cascade PBS can also provide you with a list of attorneys specializing in estate planning and making charitable gifts. Oftentimes you can make an initial appointment with an attorney to determine whether they will be helpful to you before you hire them to do your estate plan.
6. Share your plans with family or close friends. Key documents are of little or no value if no one knows what they say or where to find them when they are needed. This is especially true for the person(s) you have designated to serve as your personal representative/executor under your will or the trustee of your living trust. Loved ones will appreciate at least a general sense of what to expect to prevent future misunderstandings.

Consider Your Charitable Legacy

You may have numerous charities that you believe in strongly and you may have supported these organizations throughout your lifetime. Making a gift provision to one or more charitable organizations in your estate can be a natural extension of that support. You might be surprised at how much you can leave for Cascade PBS with a charitable gift while still achieving your personal and financial goals.

BEQUEST

This is a gift made through your will or living trust. You can leave a specified amount of money, a particular piece of property, or all or a portion of the “residue” (what’s left after your final expenses, debts, and specific gifts are paid). Continue reading for sample bequest wording.

BENEFICIARY DESIGNATION GIFT

Just as you designate individuals to receive specific assets as your named beneficiary, you can name Cascade PBS to receive part or all of the asset. This is most used with IRAs and other retirement plan assets and life insurance policies, but it can also work with assets, such as checking and savings accounts, brokerage accounts, and commercial annuities.

In addition to leaving a final legacy, bequests and beneficiary designations have the advantage of being flexible and revocable. Perhaps most importantly, they leave the assets under your control should you need them during your lifetime.

Charitable bequests and beneficiary designation gifts are fully deductible for Federal estate tax purposes and there is no limit as to how much can be deducted.

CHARITABLE REMAINDER TRUST

A charitable remainder trust can help you maintain or increase your income while making a significant gift to Cascade PBS. It is an especially attractive gift if you would like to sell an appreciated asset, e.g., real estate held for investment purposes, and generate income from the sale by substantially reducing and deferring capital gain income that would have been due if you had sold the real estate.

RETAINED LIFE ESTATE

You can give your personal residence to Cascade PBS and continue to live there for the rest of your life. You have the satisfaction of knowing that this generous gift is complete and the benefit of immediately reducing income taxes with a charitable deduction in the year of your gift. Retained life estate gifts or other real estate must conform to Cascade PBS acceptance policies.

DONOR ADVISED FUNDS

A donor-advised fund (DAF) can provide you with immediate tax benefits while making your charitable giving easier for years to come. An increasingly popular charitable vehicle, DAFs are an excellent way to both simplify your charitable giving and facilitate your strategic philanthropic goals. You can continue your support after your lifetime by naming Cascade PBS as a successor of your plan. Or you can designate Cascade PBS to receive a portion of the account value. The remaining balance can be managed by your loved ones to continue your legacy of giving.

CHARITABLE ENDOWMENTS

You may prefer to leave property or money in an endowment form so that the charity does not spend the principal. Instead, the charity spends the endowment income. Endowments may be left to Cascade PBS with instructions for their use. If you are interested in an endowment approach to your charitable gifts, please contact us.

Leave a Legacy to Cascade PBS

If you wish to leave a bequest to Cascade PBS, the process is relatively straightforward.

As you consult your attorney on the selection of appropriate wording to reflect your own goals and intentions regarding Cascade PBS, be sure that our correct legal name appears in all final documents as:

"I give to Cascade Public Media, a Washington nonprofit corporation, the sum of ____dollars ($_____) or (____% of my property) or (describe specific property), federal tax identification number 91-1221895, to be used for the general purposes of Cascade PBS (or a specific purpose)."

Cascade Public Media is the legal name for the organization that includes Cascade PBS.

TYPES OF BEQUESTS

Specific Bequest: Cascade PBS receives a specific dollar amount or a piece of property. This is one of the most popular forms of bequests.

Residuary Bequest: Cascade PBS receives all or a stated percentage of an estate after distribution of specific bequests and payment of debts, taxes, and expenses.

Contingent Bequest: Cascade PBS receives all or part of the estate under certain specified circumstances, such as the passing of a spouse.

Unrestricted: This gift allows Cascade PBS to use for its greatest needs. Unrestricted bequest gifts will be added to the Board Designated Endowment. Bequest gifts can also be designated for restricted endowments if they meet giving policies. An unrestricted gift is very useful because Cascade PBS will have flexibility to put the gift to the best possible use at the time it is received.

Restricted: A restricted gift is given to Cascade PBS with instructions for a specific purpose, such as support for a special project or program that is important to you. Please consult with the Planned Giving Office prior to establishing your restrictions to ensure that Cascade PBS can fulfill the intent of your gift.

Glossary of Terms

Administrator - The person appointed by the court to manage one's estate when he or she dies without leaving a will. Administrators have the same duties as executors/personal representatives

Annuity - A contractual arrangement to pay a fixed sum of money to an individual at regular intervals. The annuity secures fixed lifetime payments to the benefactor and/or another individual.

Beneficiary - An individual designated to receive benefits or funds under a will or other contract, such as an insurance policy, trust, or retirement plan.

Bequest - A gift or legacy left by will; typically personal property or assets.

Codicil - A legal instrument made to modify an earlier will.

Estate - The legal entity that manages and distributes a deceased person's property.

Estate Tax – During 2024, a federal estate tax will be charged on the value of a person's estate in excess of $13,061,000. In addition, Washington State has a state estate tax on the value of a person's estate in excess of $2,193,000

Executor (or Personal Representative) - The person named in a will to manage the estate. This person will collect the property, pay any debt and distribute the property or assets according to the will.

Grantor - The person who transfers assets into a trust for the benefit of him/herself or others.

Guardian - An individual legally appointed to manage the rights and/or property of a person incapable of taking care of his or her own affairs.

Heir - A person entitled to inherit a portion of the estate of a person who has died through an inheritance from an estate. The heir may inherit by the terms of a will or, if there is no will, the heirs are those defined as beneficiaries according to the law.

Intestate - The term applied when an individual dies without a will.

Legacy - A transfer of personal property by a will.

Living (Revocable) Trust - A revocable trust established by a grantor during his or her lifetime in which the grantor transfers some or all of his or her property into the trust.

Power of Attorney - A written legal document that gives an individual the authority to act for another.

Probate - The court supervised process of administering the estate of a deceased person by resolving all claims and distributing the deceased person's property under a valid will.

Trust - A written legal instrument created by a grantor for the benefit of him/herself (during their lifetime) or others (during their lifetime or at death).

Trustee - The individual or institution entrusted with the duty of managing property placed in the trust. A "co-trustee" serves as trustee with another. A "contingent trustee" becomes trustee upon the occurrence of a specified future event.

Will - A legally executed document that directs how and to whom a person's property is to be distributed after death.
