Northwest Reports: First Response

Available wherever you get your podcasts

Harborview Medical Center in Seattle is the only Level 1 Trauma Center in Washington state. As a result, it has become ground zero for the major crises of our time, including a rise in gun violence.

In this Northwest Reports three-part podcast series, we hear what it’s like to be a surgeon, nurse or paramedic amid a historic rise in gun-related injuries—and what some medical professionals are doing to help. A new program at Harborview aims to support survivors and, ultimately, interrupt what is often an ongoing cycle of violence.
